President's Comments:

Thanks to everyone who shared their evening with us at the Installation Banquet. I believe it was an enjoyable evening for all. Special thanks go out to Larry for his ability to line up a new speaker when freezing rain in Baltimore forced Lt Gen Newton, USAF, to cancel at the last minute. Hopefully we will be able to have Lt Gen Newton join us for a future luncheon. Thanks also to Lt Col Darryl Smith, USAF, for stepping in on short notice and for his entertaining presentation, and to CAPT Don Freese, USN (Ret) and President of the Florida Council of Chapters for installing our new Officers: LCDR Bill Lee, USN (Ret), 1st Vice-President and MAJ Joanne Taylor, USA (Ret), 2nd Vice-President. We are very grateful to outgoing EC members COL Bill Lofgren, USAF (Ret), 1LT Hazel Murphy, USANC (Fmr) and Mrs. Johnnie Neville, AuxMbr-AF, for their dedicated service on the Executive Advisory Board, and to Chris Lillich and Treasurer Pete Dawson for their willingness to serve another year. Welcome to the Executive Advisory Board Mrs. Virginia Balke, AuxMbr-A, LTC Hardy Bryan, USA (Ret), and CPT Barbara Stakk, USA (Fmr).

As I said at the Installation Banquet, today we live in fiscally challenging times for our Nation. Our MOAA leaders in Wash-

OPEN LETTER TO VIETNAM VETERANS

Dear Hero,

I was in my twenties during the Vietnam era. I was a single mother, and, I'm sad to say, I was probably one of the most self-centered people on the planet. To be perfectly honest, I didn't care one way or the other about the war. All I cared about was me - how I looked, what I wore, and where I was going. I worked and I played.

I was never politically involved in anything, but I allowed my opinions to be formed by the media. It happened without my ever being aware. I listened to the protest songs and I watched the six o'clock news and I listened to all the people who were talking. After awhile, I began to repeat their words and, if you were to ask me, I'd have told you I was against the war. It was very popular. Everyone was doing it, and we never saw what it was doing to our men. All we were shown was what they were doing to the people of Vietnam.

My brother joined the Navy, and then he was sent to Vietnam. When he came home, I repeated the words to him. It surprised me at how angry he became. I hurt him very deeply and there were years of separation - not only of miles, but also of character. I didn't understand. In fact, I didn't understand anything until one day I opened my newspaper and saw the anguished face of a Vietnam veteran. The picture was taken at the opening of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C. His countenance revealed the terrible burden of his soul. As I looked at his picture and his tears, I finally understood a tiny portion of what you had given for us and what we had done to you.

I understood that I had been manipulated, but I also knew that I had failed to think for myself. It was like waking up out of a nightmare, except that the nightmare was real. I didn't know what to do. One day about three years ago, I went to a member of the church I attended at that time, because he had served in Vietnam. I asked him if he had been in Vietnam, and he got a look on his face and said, "Yes." Then, I took his hand, looked him square in the face, and said, "Thank you for going." His jaw dropped, he got an amazed look on his face, and then he said, "No one has ever said that to me." He hugged me and I could see that he was about to get tears in his eyes.

It gave me an idea, because there is much more that needs

Installation Banquet; 21 January 2012

Attended – 83: (89 reservations), 7 Member Guests, 9 Chapter Guests, 2 Walk in, 6 Cancel, 2 No Shows

In spite of some behind-the-scenes calamities, the Installation dinner was a huge success.

Outgoing President, Ed Lillich shared the early morning drama which began with a phone call around 7:30 in the morning. Our scheduled speaker, Lt Gen Dick Newton, USAF, was stuck in the Baltimore airport because of freezing rain. Gen Newton tried to find an alternative means of transportation, but was not able to get anything that would get him to the dinner at the appointed time. So Ed called Larry Fernald to tell him that we needed a speaker for the evening, which in his true fashion, Larry was able to do. Sometime early in the morning Lynn Bolin made a phone call to say that Bill had just been admitted to the hospital, and although he was resting well, he would not be at the dinner to take care of the reservation table. Thankfully Jim Patton volunteered - well he is Coast Guard after all, and their motto is "Always Prepared." Jim had plenty of help at the table, and everything worked like a well oiled wheel.

After an entertaining dissertation on the events leading up to the dinner, Ed turned the meeting over to the Master of Ceremonies, Lt Col Larry Fernald, USAF (Ret).

Chaplain (COL) Mike Day, USA (Ret) gave the invocation, followed by the Presentation of Colors by the Admiral Farragut Color Guard and the Pledge of Allegiance led by Larry Fernald.

The Master of Ceremonies then introduced the head table which included; CAPT Don Freese and Sherry, Lt Col Darryl "Egg" Smith and wife Melanie, Lt Col Larry Fernald and Barbara, LTC Terry Carr and Paulette and MAJ Ed Lillich and Chris. Distinguished Members, Life Member Emeritus and Past Presidents were then introduced.

Larry Fernald then turned the podium over to Ed Lillich to present the Distinguished Member Award to CWO4 Basil Burrell, USCG (Ret), and the Life Member Emeritus Award to CAPT Don Freese, USN (Ret).

Ed also presented a certificate of appreciation to Chris Lillich for all her help during the two years of his presidency, and a certificate of appreciation to Col Bill Lofgren, USAF (Ret), for his "chef extraordinary" candy making to help the HOT program, and for serving as Chapter Photographer.

Following dinner, CAPT Don Freese, Florida Council of Chapters President, installed the following: President - LTC Terry Carr, USA (Ret); 1st Vice President - LCDR Bill Lee, USN (Ret); 2nd Vice President - MAJ Joanne Taylor, USA (Ret); Secretary - Chris Lillich, AuxMbr-Spouse; and Treasurer

- Maj Pete Dawson, USAF (Ret). Executive Advisory Board Members for term ending December 31, 2012 - Jean Jessup, AuxMbr-A; Col Charlie Parsons, USAF (Ret); and Maj Gen John Schoeppner, USAF (Ret); and for term ending December 31, 2013 - Virginia Balke, AuxMbr-A; LTC Hardy Bryan, USA (Ret); and CPT Barbara Stakk, USA (Fmr). CAPT Don Freese then presented Ed Lillich with his past president's pin, and Ed presented Terry Carr with the president's pin and gavel. Terry had a few remarks, which included the necessity for all members to bring in new members.

Larry Fernald then introduced his friend and fellow Civil Air Patrol member, and our short-notice guest speaker, Lt Col Darryl "Egg" Smith, USAF. Egg is assigned to CENTCOM as the Deputy Chief, Training Division, Exercises and Training Directorate, where he oversees various CENTCOM exercises. Egg is a former F-16 pilot, and has flown the U-2/TR-1 and the C-21, as well as T-38's and F-16s in the aggressor role at Nellis AFB, NV. He has over 4,900 hours flight time, including over 300 hours combat time in F-16s and U-2/TR-1s. Egg presented an 8 minute video on Red Flag, including some crashes, which lead into a briefing on Red Flag itself and how that two week simulated combat situation prepares pilots and crews from all aircraft for actual combat missions, and helps them successfully complete the first 7 days of combat, where, statistically, they are more prone to accidents.

Following questions to "Egg," Chaplain Mike Day gave the benediction and the evening concluded.

Executive Committee Meeting 3 January 2012

The meeting was called to order by the President, Ed Lillich, at 1130 hours. Chaplain George Brown gave the invocation which was followed by the Pledge of Allegiance led by the president. Seventeen members were present including; Carol Barnes, Bill Bolin, George Brown, Terry Carr, Pete Dawson, Larry Fernald, Barbara Fernald, Don Freese, Jean Jessup, Bill Lee, Chris Lillich, Ed Lillich, Bill Lofgren, Hazel McGrath, Johnnie Neville, Jim Patton and Violet Smith. Ed Lillich thanked the officers and committee chairpersons for all the help that was provided to him in the past two years and said it was a pleasure to work with each and every one.

Minutes of Previous Meeting: Bill Lofgren made a motion to accept the minutes as presented by e-mail to the Executive Committee, seconded by Jim Patton. Motion passed.

Treasurer's Report: Treasurer Pete Dawson reported the balance of $9,652.49 in the operating fund at the end of December 2012. He explained to the E.C. that the $1,759.31 reported as miscellaneous expenses represent $50.00 gratuity for our wait staff at the E.C. meetings and the balance was used to bring the Officers' Call Booster account to a zero balance. A detailed accounting is found elsewhere in the O.C.

to be said. How do we put into words all the regret of so many years? I don't know, but when I have an opportunity, I take it so here goes. Have you been to Vietnam? If so, I have something I want to say to you -Thank you for going! Thank you from the bottom of my heart. Please forgive me for my insensitivity. I don't know how I could have been so blind, but I was. When I woke up, you were wounded and the damage was done, and I don't know how to fix it. I will never stop regretting my actions, and I will never let it happen again.

Please understand that I am speaking for the general public also. We know we blew it and we don't know how to make it up to you. We wish we had been there for you when you came home from Vietnam because you were a hero and you deserved better. Inside of you there is a pain that will never completely go away and you know what? It's inside of us, too; because when we let you down, we hurt ourselves, too. We all know it and we suffer guilt and we don't know what to do so we cheer for our troops and write letters to "any soldier" and we hang out the yellow ribbons and fly the flag and we love America. We love you too, even if it doesn't feel like it to you. I know in my heart that, when we cheer wildly for our troops, part of the reason is trying to make up for Vietnam. And while it may work for us, it does nothing for you. We failed you. You didn't fail us, but we failed you, and we lost our only chance to be grateful to you at the time when you needed and deserved it. We have disgraced ourselves and brought shame to our country. We did it and we need your forgiveness.

Please say you will forgive us and please take your rightful place as heroes of our country. We have learned a terribly painful lesson at your expense and we don't know how to fix it.

From the heart,

MOAA Legislative Update

Edited by Jim Patton

From MOAA and other sources

Medicare/TRICARE Cut Looms

Legislators return to Washington, and they face a full plate in 2012.

A long term debt reduction plan remains the most divisive and elusive issue, and it will likely dominate the proceedings of the 2nd session of the 112th Congress.

If Congress can come to a debt reduction agreement this year it can stave off the automatic debt reduction trigger – sequestration – that would lead to massive cuts in defense spending, and almost certainly disproportionately whack the military community with the brunt of spending cuts.

In the more immediate future Congress will need to pass a long term “doc fix” without which Medicare/TRICARE payments to doctors would be cut by more than 27%. The current extension expires at the end of February.

Now’s the time to kick off your 2012 grass roots advocacy efforts by sending your legislators a MOAA-suggested message asking them to pass a long term “doc fix” and protect access to health care for military families and retirees.

Grappling With DoD Healthcare Costs

The Pentagon is putting the final touches on a soon to be released report providing a new perspective on the rising cost of military medical care. Most importantly the report focuses on options to save money without shifting costs to beneficiaries through fee increases.

Former Defense Secretary Robert Gates repeatedly bemoaned that “health care costs are eating the Defense Department alive.” The fact is that over the past decade, U.S. health care costs have grown substantially, and the military health system’s costs have been no exception. The Pentagon reported that health care costs have more than doubled from $19 billion in 2001 to $52.5 billion requested for fiscal year 2012.

After more than ten years of war and the associated costs of readiness and force health protection, some of the cost-growth is understandable.

But there are also tremendous inefficiencies and duplication in the military health care system.

According to former Maine Governor John Baldacci, who was appointed to provide the review and an independent assessment of the military health system, “We need to bring things under control and change the way we are doing business.”

He believes the design of the current military medical infrastructure has not kept pace with the rapid changes in healthcare delivery. “Instead of placing the rising costs of TRICARE and military medicine onto the beneficiary, the system inefficiency should be addressed first,” stated Baldacci.

MOAA finds this approach refreshing, but we’ll need to see the final recommendations before we can jump on board.

As I See It — An Extra Special Interest Group

January 12, 2012

By Col. Steve Strobbridge, USAF-Ret.

Budget critics perpetually attack the special interest groups that lobby Congress and make big political donations to protect, preserve, and enhance their own share of the budget pie at taxpayers’ expense.

The assumption is special interest groups care more about their own interests than they do about the welfare of the country as a whole.

Among those who propose significant cutbacks in defense spending, some point to the advocacy of military associations (often citing MOAA as lead example) as the cause of significant recent personnel and compensation cost growth.

In their view, the military community is a special interest group that has sought to feather its own nest with higher pay for currently serving troops, plussed-up health care benefits, expensive retirement reforms, and big benefit increases for military survivors, among others, over the past decade.

Are we a special interest group?

Absolutely. In fact, the military community should be considered an “extra special interest group.” But Congress wouldn’t have passed all those increases if it were merely a matter of self-interest for the affected individuals.

The military community is (or at least should be) of extra special interest to every American, because unless we can continue to attract top-quality people to serve for decades under conditions most Americans won’t accept, the country won’t be able to meet its most basic requirement — defending itself.

Unlike other special interest groups, MOAA and most other military associations don’t have deep pockets to make political contributions or take legislators on lavish “retreats.”

We make our case on historical experience that Congress understands better than the budget critics do.

And that experience clearly shows when the country depresses military compensation and benefits value so it no longer offsets the sacrifices of career service, people in uniform eventually vote with their feet.

That’s what happened in the 1990s, after almost two decades of constant pay, retirement, and health care cutbacks.

Congress didn’t pass the increases of the past decade out of the goodness of their hearts or to feather military families’ nests at the country’s expense. Congress adopted those changes because they were essential to preserve retention and readiness — by correcting the wrongs imposed on the military com-

-ington are working hard with representatives of both political parties to convince them to not force a disproportionate share of spending cuts on our Nations military, both past and present, as they tackle ways to reduce the national deficit. It is more important than ever to speak with one powerful voice to political offices both locally and nationally.

They knew from hard experience that currently serving troops pay attention to the treatment accorded their predecessors in service and that military retirees are primary recruiters for the next generations in uniform.

Too often over the 1980s and 1990s, the treatment of military retirees loudly spoke, “Don’t let the door hit you on the way out.”

And the military and the country paid a price for that in retention and readiness.

Sadly, shortsighted budget critics don’t seem to learn from the retention crises of the 1970s and 1990s. All they focus on is the past decade of improvements to address the problems that caused the crises.

Every segment of America, including the military, will be called upon to make some sacrifices to put our country back on a sound economic path.

Unfortunately, history shows the tendency in tough budget times has been to whack the military community disproportionately and give inadequate weight to the sacrifices they already have rendered for our country.

Extra special interest group, indeed. At least they should be.

Coast Guard City, USA

Clearwater celebrated its designation as a Coast Guard City as part of the Blast Friday event on January 27th at 6 p.m.

Clearwater is the only current city in Florida to have the designation and one of 14 nationally. It is given based on support to local Coast Guard stations and its members.

The city coordinates community recognition, events and programs to support the Coast Guard and its members. The city recognizes the Coast Guard Persons of the Year; participates in the annual Coast Guard birthday celebration; provides welcome aboard packages to arriving Coast Guard personnel; hosts the Coast Guard Band at Ruth Eckerd Hall; and helps the Coast Guard when needed.

The event featured the Clearwater Police and Fire Department's Joint Honor Guard with the Coast Guard Honor Guard and the Coast Guard Quintet also performed. There were displays and information about Coast Guard careers.
